Dalton Fury Donates Books to The Greer Foundation DELTA FORCE THRILLER – BLACK SITE

Eastman, GA – The Greer Foundation today announced that New York Times Best Selling Author Dalton Fury, author of Kill Bin Laden: A Delta Force Commanders Account of the Hunt For the World's Most Wanted Man, has donated five copies of his new Delta Force Thriller Black Site. Dalton Fury served with Chief Carlson in Delta Force and both were deployed to Afghanistan together hunting for Bin Laden after 9/11. The Greer Foundation is giving all five copies away by random draw to those who visit the foundation's Facebook page and click the "Like" button. Random draws, by Random.org, will be launched the moment our "Like" counter hits 200, 300, 400, 500, & 600. Dalton Fury has agreed to sign and personalize each copy for the winners. We will handle the shipping and have them in the mail as soon as they hit the book stores in early 2012. To visit our Facebook page click here.

Speaking about his decision to donate the books, Fury said “Chief and Kolt Raynor had a lot in common; except Kolt’s career is pure fiction.”

In 2003, Chief retired from the US Army. Chief had every right to retire peacefully and enjoy his family. Instead, a deep sense of duty and patriotism called him to return to the same unforgiving mountains of Afghanistan to hunt Osama Bin Laden and the Al Qaeda network. Chief died doing what he loved and what his nation trained him to do. Chief was killed in action by terrorists on October 25, 2003. He was serving as a member of a joint Central Intelligence Agency/Special Operations clandestine operations team tasked with tracking those responsible for 9/11.

Dr. Greer served with Chief in Ranger and Special Forces units. “His impeccable service as an Airborne Ranger, Green Beret, and Delta Force operator marked Chief as a genuine irreplaceable warrior. Those who were privileged to serve with Chief, including Dalton Fury, knew he was one of a kind” said Dr. Steven Greer, founder of The Greer Foundation.
